

Bennington School has an opening for a high school English teacher for the 2023-2024 school year. Applicants certified in English are preferred, but any applicant with a bachelor's degree in any area may apply. Position will likely include teaching both English and elective classes for high school students.

Applicants must provide a resume with references, college transcript, and teaching certificate (if applicable). Applicants must pass a background check and meet all other requirements of the position.

Please contact Darren Harber, if you are interested or have any questions.
